DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Figures 1-3 of Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of Taylor et al. (5,430,256).

Figures 1-3 of AAPA discloses the invention substantially as claimed including the electric cord being connected between a vibrator and an input terminal in which the same electric current is flowed through the wires. Figures 1-3 of AAPA does not disclose the wires being electrically insulated from one another or the surface of the conductor (12), which is wound on the surface of the core thread (11), being covered with an insulator. Taylor et al. discloses an electric cord (Figs 1-2) comprising a plurality of wires which are electrically insulated from one another. Taylor et al. discloses that in the case of an uninsulated multistranded conductor of the known art, the fact of its uninsulation causes it to behave as though it is a solid conductor of a given overall gauge, and the audio signal is subjected to skin effect resulting in a negative alteration of the audio signal. Furthermore, uninsulated stranded conductors are subject to the effects of the corrosive atmosphere. As the wires aged, the audio signal is deteriorated (col. 1, lines 53-63).

Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to apply the teaching of Taylor et al. in the electric cord of Figures 1-3 of AAPA by covering the conductor (12) entirely or by covering the surface of the wire with an insulator to improve the signal transmission and to protect the conductors. It would also have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use enamel as the insulator for the modified electric cord of Figures 1-3 of AAPA since enamel is well-known in the art for being used to cover electric conductor.

Cited Art

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Gasque, Jr. and Roe disclose electric cords having insulated rectangular conductors wound around a core.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 8 and 9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Summary

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
